Personal Reflection 1: Course Expectations

Currently I have no experience in educational law, or any other form of law. I am pursuing a Masters in Higher Education with a certificate in Institutional research. I am hoping that this class will provide some insight into an area that I am unfamiliar with. In the future, I hope to work with international students and institutions, so I also hope to learn more about the international education laws. I am beginning this class with an open mind and a clean slate and look forward to encountering resources and opportunities to grow!
